“ The legacy Mike has left on his family and friends is unmatched by any words that can be written. He came from a golden time and place. I will cherish and carry the memories I have of Mike with me forever. He was one of the most genuinely caring and kind people I’ve had the pleasure of knowing. I met him and Jean when I was starting out my career as a massage therapist almost 20 years ago. I knew them before they got married and remember very clearly when they did tie the knot. Mike asked if I could do in-home massages one day and I informed him that my table was too big and heavy for me to do them, so he suggested that he pay up front for a portable table that I could ‘pay off’ by doing in homes for him and Jean. It was a huge help in jump starting my very successful massage career. And he has been my client pretty much the whole time. When Mike became a realtor, just so happened that I was at that point in my life where my husband and I were looking for a home. He helped us through the market in 2012-2013 when there were short sales and foreclosures up the wazoo. Not the most profitable or fun homes to sell/see, and it wasn’t fun- but Mike has always been such a calm presence, so collected and just made the process easy. I felt like Mike was an extended Dad- just had my back and I knew it truly. I was happy to have him as a client, and take care of him with massage therapy over the years. I have listened to him dote about his family especially his grandsons and how proud he was of all their accomplishments over the years. Mike had a great life from what I can make of knowing him the last 2 decades. Bye for now Mike, and thank you so much for intercepting with me in this life, you’ve left an impact.
